they dallied with Hutchison's curves in the third to the tune of seven runs, and Captain Anson wisely decided to switch the brush by putting in Stratton.

The Colts then took a turn at run-getting, and at the close of the fifth inning | a i scored twelve runs, while Wasnington had not added to their seven. Maul was retired and gave way to Mercer, who proved more effective. For the visitors Ward carried off both the batting and fielding honors, while Hassamaer and Cartwright showed up strong in all departments of the game. Dahlen and Anson hit the ball for keeps, the former having three doubles to his credit.

For such a heavy batting game the fielding on both sides was very good, and the errors were few and far between. Chicago won by superior batting. It is understood Manager Schmekr is willing to dispose of hird bassman Joyce, Attendance, 1980. Score:

VIGILANT SUFFERED DEFEAT. Owing to Sudden Failure of the Wind th

Hunter's Quay, Firth of Cathe, July 5.-The American yacht Vigilant was defeated in the Mudhook regatta to-day by the Prince of Wales' Britannia, the latter winning by thirty-five seconds, corrected time. The testants in the race, but neither finished, owing to an unfortunate collision while preparing for the start. These two yachts became locked together, and in a few minutes the Yalkyrie settled down and sank, while the Satanita was so badly damaged that she was obliged to retire. Some time passed before the people ashore fully realized what had happened.

the people ashore fully realized what had happened.

The Sataulta, it appears, was looking for the start and was unable to get out of the Vaikyrie's way, as the latter was coming on the starboard tack. The Vaikyrie's bowsprit ran across the Satanita's foresail and the collision which immediately followed carried away the Satanita's bowsprit, leaving her a wreck covered with tangled rigging and collapsed sails. The force of the collision cut the Valkyrie down to the water's edge, and she slowly settled and sank in three minutes. Lord Dunraven, Mr. Watson and the officers and crew of the Valkyrie were picked up by boats which put out from the sher and from the many sailing and steam yachts in the vicinity of the scene of the accident.

Lady Aigine Lennox and Lord Gordon-Lennox were sitting at the stern of the Valkyrie at the time of the accident.

Lady Lennox was cared for first, and with the utmost dispatch was taken in a small lord and nulled shoer in a single familie.

rie at the time of the accident.

Lady Lennox was cared for first, and with the utmost dispatch was taken in a small boat and pulled asbore in an aimost fainting condition. Lord Dunraven is said to be almost heartbroken over the loss of his boat. The Vigilant and Britannia continued on their course without those on board being aware of the accident, the yachts starting from an imaginary line drawn between the Royal Clyde Yacht Club headquarters, at Hunter's Quay, and mark boat No. I. The first leg was around a mark boat of Skelmorlie; from the re to and around a mark boat of Kilereggan, and from there to the starting point, twice around.

The Vigilant soon took the lead, and at the round was in the lead by two minutes.

One of the most remarkable changes which ever occurred in a yacht rice happened soveral miles from the finish. The wind was still fairly fresh on the run up the Firth as far as Cloch, where the Vigilant had a lead of over five minutes. On the home side of Cloch, however, the Vigilant droppel out of the wind and the Britannia began to draw up on her, keeping further from the shore, with the result that a mile above Cloch the Vigilant was passed and the Britannia was leading by naif a minute at Kilereggra.

On the reach the Vigilant pluckily endeavored to come past on the weather, but the Britannia luffed up and prevented her, the British boat winning by 35 seconds.

The Vigilant should undoubtedly have won with a minute or two to spare, and would have done so but for the sudden failing of the wind in which the Britannia was so wellserved. It was admitted on all sides that the Vigilant was the better boat, and that she had the ht rest lines in losing.

SOME MORE DEPEATED LURAY

In a Close Finish Daly's Pet Proved Winner of the Third Race, a Head Before Luray. Postmaster, Meadows and Come Home Were All Big Choices Which Lost.

Yesterday was somewhat of a rough experience for the talent engaged in the effort to spot winners at the Island track. Out of the likelihood the books did not lose on either race, as they took in plenty of money on the other starters to stand off what was paid out. While the racing was not altogether one-sided, yet the finishes as a rule were not The only exception was in the third event, when Some More and Luray left their feld far behind and had a duel to the wire, the first named getting the decision by a good head. These two horses were both heavily backed at one time, it being 6 to 5 and take your pick. Some More finally closed a slight choice. Annorean was an indifferent third.

The opening race was supposed to be a good thing for Postmaster, and he closed at 7 to 5 choice, while the odds against Clara Bell fluctuated from 4 to 2 and finally settled at 3. Clara Bell made all the running and won easily by three lengths from Postmaster, with Marlboro a fair third.

Meadows and Sonora were first and second choices, respectively, for the second, and they had the finish between them, Sonora getting up in the final 100 yards and winning by a half length, McKeever being third. In the fourth race Come Home was pounded down to 4 to 5, while Ponce de Leon was a good second choice. Bender got the latter off in front and never let the others catch up, opening up a gap of 15 lengths in the back stretch, finally winning pulled up by five lengths from McDonald, who beat the good thing an open length.

PENDING DISTRICT BILLS.

Measures Awaiting the Action of the Dis

The House and Senate District Committees will both meet to-day, the latter for the first ime in several months. There is a large volnme of bills to consider, and every indication that they will be rushed. On the Senate calendar there are already a good collection of District bills. Senator Me-good collection of District bills. Senator MeMilan will push his much-talked of Metropolitan railway bill first. Following this come on the list that for the regulation of tax sales; the changing the naming of Sixteenth street to Executive avenue; concerning labor regulations; the maintenance of the Fifteenth street car shed; one amending the law relative to false swearing before police and fire boards; to pension Mrs. Kelton, wife of the late adjutant general; to compel local railways to properly pave about their tracks;

to establish an observatory circle about the National Observatory; the bill known as the Dockery bill (for changes in the executive departments); founding a national observatory; increasing the water supply; compelling employes to furnish seats for female employes.
The District appropriation bill will probably be the last taken up.

TWO MURDERERS SENTENCED.

Judge Cole Fixes November 23 Next as the Date of Their Execution Augustus Jenkins and Charles Hopkins two murderers, were sentenced in the crimi-nal court, No. 1, yesterday afternoon by Judge Cole to be hung November 23 next in Jenkins was tried and convicted for the murder of Benjamin M. Shepherd near the corner of Tweatieth and L streets, by catting him in the abdomen with a large knife. The murder was committed January 22, 1894. Charles Hopkins was convicted of killing Adam, alias James Gordon in South Washington on December 14, 1893. He struck Gordon in the heal with a brick, causing a fracture which resulted in Gordon's death.

It requires as much pluck and tenneity of purpose to revive a half-drowned man at times as it does to effect his rescue from the water. There was an instance at Asbury Park nen were revived considerably over an bour after they had been taken out of the water by the indefatigable work of the people who had undertaken their resuscitation, says the New York Sun. A boy in Long Island sound, who had been under the water for 15 or 10 minutes, and who was given up for dead by the majority of the spectators, was brought back to life after two hours of cont nued friction, the application of hot towels, and the modern system of compressing and expanding the lungs by raising and lowering the arms of the patient. This latter rescue was necomplished by a physician who had made a study of the matter of reviving people who have apparently died in the water, and he was axxeedingly persistent and tireless in his efforts to restore breath to the boy's body. Toward the end of his exertions he was looked upon as a funalle moon the sections. after they had been taken out of the water by

PEACE AT BLUEFIELDS.

Difficulties that Will Satisfy Everybody Concerned. Advices received here from Bluefields are indicative of an early and peaceful settlelications of an Early Settlement of the ment of the difficulties that have made the Mosquito reservation an object of international importance for several months. It is probable that the outcome will be an arrangement satisfactory to nearly everybody concerned. The sovereignty of Nicaragua concerned. The sovereignty of Nicaragua over the entire reservation will be firmly established, and the national government will collect imposts, defend the country, and otherwise assert its supremacy.

The people of the reservation will be permitted to run their own local government, lay their own internal taxes and generally maintain an autonomous government, bearing about the same relation to the Nicaraguan government as that of one of our states does to the national government.

With this measure of local self-government it is believed that the British government will regard the treaty stipulations as satisfied, and the United States will be content to have the old and anomalous system of dual and conflicting governments which impeded negotiations and trade arrangements broken up for all time.

FRANK LESLIES'

Scenes and Portraits

The only leature in the negotiations up to this point that has given rise to any friction was the killing of the American, Wilson, by the Nicaraguan functionary, Arguello, who subsequently oscaped. But this promises to yield to easy adjustment, as the Nicaraguan government has earnestly disclaimed responsibility for the murder, which it assorted was the result of a private quarrel, and has endeavored to punish the guilty man according to the laws of the country.

Thanks to the earnest efforts of Dr. Guzman, the Nicaraguan minister at Washington, the relations between the United States and Nicaragua are now of the most friendly nature, and the two governments are working in perfect harmony.

An arrangement has been made between the representative of the Nicaraguan Canal Company and the Nicaraguan government, by which the great project is free from all obstruction, and as an earnest of his good feeling towards and admiration for the United States President Zelaya and the Minister of the Interior of Nicaragua have sent their sons to Washington, where their education will be completed under the eye of Minister Guzman.

CIVIL WAR

La true illustration of the danger, great sufferings and mortal perfl which our noble braves encountered. Many to whom the words were addressed have already passed away, but the new greating the whole work of their deeds become less vivid and it is to impress on the new age and to a no posterity the memories of these heroes that this work is designed. Neither trouble nor expense has been spared to make Frank Leslie's Scenes and Portraits of the Civil War perfectly reliable in every way. Editors of experience have been engaged to go over the whole work carefully and verify every date, so as to prevent the possibility of error.
